RE: Parent Day 2018

Dear Eagle Family,

The new school year has begun and we are overjoyed with the interactions campus-wide with students, teachers and staff. Each student has arrived on the Navajo Preparatory School (NPS) campus with his or her mind set towards obtaining knowledge and developing their personal worldview. We are grateful for the opportunity to contribute to your student's education and hope to foster their impact in an everchanging, global society.

With the many new faces at the administrative level of NPS, as well as those throughout campus, it is imperative that communication between as stakeholders is clear and communication lines are open. With this in mind, we cordially invite you to attend our Annual Parent Day at Navajo Prep. The enclosed agenda outlines a day filled with activities and workshops that will allow for positive interactions with many of the leadership/administration staff of NPS.

This day will allow stakeholders to conversate with the Navajo Prep Board of Trustees, the new Head of School, new Dean of Instruction, as well as hear an important message from an accomplished, former Navajo Prep student. Lunch will be provided and we will close the day with an ice cream social, coupled with a "Teacher Meet and Greet." We are looking forward to all that this day will offer and sincerely hope that you will consider joining us. All activities for Parent Day 2018 will take place on the campus of Navajo Preparatory School.

Please save the date (Friday, August 31, 2018) on your calendar and be ready to begin promptly at 8:30am in the Eagle's Nest Gymnasium.

Kindest Regards,

Keith M. Neil, MBA
Dean of Instruction
